30 MILLION RELIEF BILL FALLS 7 SHORT ON SECOND BILL

Downstate Factions Defeat Key Measure—Cook Co. Favors Bonds

Governor Horner's proposed $30,000,000 bond issue went down to defeat a second time yesterday in the house of representatives at Springfield when the relief measure fell short seven votes of the 102 required for its passage.

This senate bill, designated as No. 1 and the key measure in a program of six bills embodying the bond issue scheme, in the first test of House sentiment last week received 80 votes with 45 against.

Downstate Democrats, counted on to put over the measure, were reported in revolt because of the governor's refusal to recognize their patronage recommendations, and said to be responsible for the defeat of the measure. All Cook county members voted solidly for the bill yesterday.

There remains little doubt in the minds of observing taxpayers as to the demerits of the Horner $30,000,000 state bond issue as against the alternative non-partisan plan for raising money on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, devised under Republican leadership.

It has also become more evident that any delay in enacting relief measures will lie squarely in the lap of the governor because of what legislators say is his dictatorial and contemptuous attitude toward them.

Rep. Clinton Searle, Republican of Rock Island, showed clearly last week that while the governor has the right to limit the subject considered at a special session, he arbitrarily exceeds this power when he attempts to dictate the form of legislation under the subject. The supreme courts of other states have so ruled and the supreme court of Colorado held:

"When the governor called the legislature together and designated the subject he submitted the whole subject matter of such act for legislative action thereon. He had no more authority to go further than this and specify the particular character of amendments that were voted upon than he would have had to have prepared the bills and attached them to his call and directed the legislature to have passed or rejected the same without amendment. . . . When the governor, by his proclamation, declared, as he did, that one object of convening the General Assembly was to enact a revenue law for the state, his power was exhausted insofar as concerns the right of the legislature to carry that object into effect."

Speakers last week pointed out that if the supreme court should rule that motor-fuel taxes cannot be diverted for the payment of relief bonds, the proposed $30,000,000 issue, the previous $20,000,000 issue, should be thrown on the general fund of the state. With interest, it would reach $75,000,000 watching the added burden of $3,700,000 in moods and general taxpayers over the amount that would be paid by the state.

Seasoned taxpayers would reach $75,000,000 watching the added burden of $3,700,000 in moods and general taxpayers over the amount that would be paid by the state. With interest, it would reach $75,000,000 watching the added burden of $3,700,000 in moods and general taxpayers over the amount that would be paid by the state.

If your hands are against property, it won't work. Horner's plan and go easy on the bright lighted with amazement as to the seat last week and but it's a pretty good possibility because, said he, the most women not allow the sale of or not use a car, nor would the people on their feet buy them if he did, the skin soft, the supreme court rules from harshly, the supreme court rules from harshly, the supreme court rules from harshly.

Axe-Cut in Elm Recalls Century Old History

Aged Tree Is Felled by Tom Coole in Long Beach Subdivision

Even the heart of an aged elm may contain the secrets of a bygone century. Thomas Coole was striking evidence in a chunk of an old elm tree felled last week, which bears the mark of an axe probably wielded more than a hundred years ago.

The cut was found to be near the center of the cross section, about 18 inches from the base, and had been healed by a covering of bark, still preserved, which had never been absorbed into the cambium or living growth of the tree which later concealed it.

The tree, which stood in Coole's property in the Long Beach Subdivision, off Route 21 between Loon Lake and Antioch, was on a slight embankment, the ancient highwater bank of Loon Lake, the shore of which has since receded two or three rods. The diameter of the elm near the base measured almost four feet.

It is impossible to say definitely by whom the cut was made, but it is probable that a settler would not have completed the job. It is Mr. Coole's belief that the cut was made by government surveyors in 1809, or shortly before when it was deemed advisable to divide the Indiana territory. This was done, and the Territory of Illinois was formed from the western part, the seat of government being fixed at Kaskaskia.

However, it is possible, although no statement is made in the History of Lake County published in 1877, that later surveyors came through after the land of which Lake County is comprised was acquired by the U. S. government by treaty with the Potawatomi and other tribes of Indians, at Prairie Du Chien, in August 1829, by which the Indian title became extinguished February 21, 1835.

Lake County was originally a part of McHenry, but was detached and erected as the county of Lake, by an Act of the General Assembly, approved March 1, 1839.

QUEER CAPERS ARE CUT IN TOWN HALLOWEEN NIGHT

Fire Dept. Is Called for Burning Cornstalks in Allner's Yard

Halloween pranks managed to create a little excitement in the old town Tuesday night—just ask Richard Allner, or any fireman who happened to be routed out a little before two o'clock.

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. Albert Norman, first to notice burning corn stalks in Allner's yard. Fearing that the flames might spread to the pheasant house, or the nearby garage, the fire department was called, but the fire had been almost extinguished before the arrival of the fire trucks upon the scene.

Allner had been sworn in as a special deputy for Halloween vigilance, and was out "doing his duty" to the extent of locking up Ray Sheehan for the night as an example to other high school youths out for a good time. In retaliation, his car was taken by some older men in sympathy with the youngsters, and hidden in a country lane to hinder his watch, and it was some time before he could locate it.

After the fire episode, his car was hidden again, and during his second search, a church bell pealed forth to add to the night's excitement. Altogether, it was "some night."

Reports to the effect that Allner would seek to have warrants issued against certain men suspected of inciting the mischief are without foundation, according to Sam Tarbell, who stated that no such request had been made upon him.

Wednesday morning saw shop windows all over town smeared with talow or soap, and the streets cluttered with old tires and other debris.

There were no serious accidents reported as a result of the deeds of Halloween pranks. However, the cars of Chris Paschen, Jr., and Kenneth Crawley were somewhat damaged from a collision at St. Peter's church, as Paschen was pulling out. Leave Boat for Mr. Hackett.

One of the oldest pranks of the night was the leaving of a steel row-boat at the home of Fred Hackett on Lake street. Hackett, a member of the local high school faculty, seeing the laborious approach of the rowers bearing the boat, invited the pranksters to bring the boat right on to him, but after depositing their gift the fun-makers fled in confusion pursued by several volleys of green tomatoes or other missiles. Some aver there was a note left in the boat, and that the incident has a humorous significance, but if there is a story, those who know it are keeping strangely quiet.

Amended Milk Price Boost is Signed by Wallace

Farmers to Get $2.10 Per Hundred for Fluid Milk; $1.45 for Surplus

Farmers in the Chicago area will receive $2.10 per hundred for all fluid milk going into bottles, and $1.45 for milk going into cream, starting yesterday, as a result of the amended agreement affecting milk prices in this area, signed by Secretary Henry A. Wallace Monday.

All the milk used for cream, hitherto purchased in northern Wisconsin at a surplus price, will be drawn from the local area, giving to the dairymen of the Chicago milk shed an increase of about 500,000 pounds of base. Of this amount 300,000 pounds will be divided among the various locals of the Pure Milk Producers association, the bulk going to low base members.

This increase to the producer will raise the retail price of milk in the Chicago metropolitan area from 10 to 11 cents per quart, beginning tomorrow. It is expected that the price of pints will remain at 7 cents, while cream will continue to retail at 15 cents.

Daughter Is Born to Messager

Tornado Is Most Frequent Disaster; Causes Heavy Loss of Lives

What type of disaster occurs most frequently in the United States? This question is answered from the relief annals of the American Red Cross, which show over a period of years that the tornado, or cyclone as it is called in some sections, is the most frequent and claims a heavy toll of life. It swoops almost without warning, and in the terrific whirlpool of its fierce winds it destroys all in its path.

The Red Cross gave relief in 44 tornadoes in eighteen states last year. The tornadoes killed 326 persons, injured 2,755 and the Red Cross gave aid to 21,738 who were homeless, injured or otherwise victims of the storms.

H. S. Professor's Child Has Narrow Escape From Death

Runs Behind Car as Father Is Backing from Lake Street Garage

Little David Cox, 16-months-old son of Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Cox, narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon when a wheel of the car being backed out of the garage by Mr. Cox passed over the head of the child.

Dr. R. D. Williams was called, and ordered that the baby be rushed to the Victory Memorial hospital for examination. The baby was found not to be seriously injured, and had recovered sufficiently to be brought home late last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox live in the flat over the post office, but the car is kept in a garage nearby on Lake street. Mrs. Cox and the baby were on the sidewalk, waiting for Mr. Cox to back the car out, but the child escaped from her and ran behind the car.

Dr. Williams stated that the sandy drive prevented a serious accident.

Prof. Cox is coach and biology instructor at the Antioch Township High School.

Both are members of various lodges, clubs and civic organizations.

Weather Is Not Prime for Hunting; Few Arrests Made

As a result of the mild Indian summer weather enjoyed this week, hunting activities have considerably decreased, with a proportionate decline in the number of arrests made.

George Bennett, Chicago, was brought in by Conservation Officer Kern for shooting before the starting time in the morning, and was fined ten dollars by Justice William Regan. E. V. Barth, Park Ridge, charged with shooting protected birds, was fined ten dollars. The charges against Anton Purcillo and Alexander Lurgio, both of Chicago, for shooting protected birds were dropped by the department.

BURGLARS LOOT SUMMER COTTAGES AT LAKE CATHERINE

Case Is Being Investigated by Deputy Sheriff, John DeSmidt

No leading clue as to the identity of the burglars looting seven cottages in Morley's Lake Catherine subdivision, last week has yet been made known, although an investigation is being carried on by Deputy Sheriff John DeSmidt.

The cottages entered were the Johnson, Clancey, Huey, Young, Kenworth, and Morley cottages, belonging to Chicagoans for the most part, and the Oasis Club, in which evidences were found that the burglars had celebrated with a drinking party.

Upon finding in two of the cottages rugs rolled up and ready to be taken away, DeSmidt called in Deputy Sheriffs Gene Palmieri and Arthur Grieve to guard the places.

Entry into the cottages in every case was gained by breaking a window and then releasing the locks on the doors from the inside.

Democratic Club Is Jubilant When Chase Is Reinstated

The reinstatement of Paul Chase as a state highway policeman called for extra celebration at the Democratic dance held at St. Peter's hall Saturday night. A congratulatory speech was made by Frank Mastine. The Antioch Democrats have expressed themselves as being proud that a man of the type of Mr. Chase is a member of their club.

During his speech Mr. Mastine read a letter from County Chairman John O'Keefe written to Mastine as acting committeeman, in which he stated that the reinstatement of Paul Chase was a very decisive victory for the cause of clean politics, and that he had been in Springfield on four occasions, the reinstatement of Mr. Chase being uppermost in his mind.

The next event to be sponsored by the Democratic Club will be a card party to be held in the near future. A joint meeting with the Fox Lake Democratic Club is being contemplated.

Early in 1934 a dinner will be staged at which Judge Benjamin P. Epstein, on the Circuit Court bench in Chicago, will be the principal speaker. Judge Epstein is noted as a speaker, and as being one of the most rigorous of the younger judges.

ARSON TRIAL AGAINST ANTIOCH YOUTHS IS CALLED

The trial of Charles Pester, Lake Villa, Robert Wilson and Edwin Hucker, Antioch, charged with the burning of the George V. Cordingle hotel at Lake Villa last spring, was called yesterday in the Lake County Circuit Court at Waukegan.

Eight jurors were selected yesterday, and it is expected that the remaining four will be secured today, after which the hearing of evidence will begin. It is understood that the youths will repudiate confessions which they are said to have made last spring.

Charles Pester, the fourth member of the band, did not go on trial as he was granted a severance from the case against the trio. The four also are under indictment on a charge of burglarizing the Moose Hall and King's Drug store.

MRS. J. PACINI IS SLIGHTLY HURT IN CAR COLLISION

Mrs. John Pacini received a sprained back Monday, when a car crashed into the car in which she and her son Norbert were riding, just north of Union Grove, Wisconsin.

According to Norbert, he and his mother were on their way to Milwaukee to visit Mr. Pacini, who has been confined to a hospital there for about four weeks. Norbert had just passed a car, but in swerving in ahead of it was forced to retard his speed to avoid hitting a hay-wagon just ahead. The car behind him was thus forced to crash into him, smashing the headlights, and damaging the fenders and bumpers of Pacini's car.

Upon return to Antioch, it was found by Dr. W. W. Wartner that the muscles in Mrs. Pacini's back had been strained.

They found Mr. Pacini sitting in a wheel-chair and slightly improved.

LIQUOR REGULATION—A NATIONAL PROBLEM

On the fifth of December conventions will meet in the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Utah to go through the formal motions of ratifying the 21st amendment to the Constitution of the United States, in accordance with the will of the electorate. The Eighteenth Amendment, after 14 years of the stormiest sort of history, will be dead as the fugitive slave act.

Then the fireworks will begin. Until January 3, at the earliest, liquor will be sold under the control of State laws alone, Federal jurisdiction being limited to taxation and the protecting of states which vote dry—as yet there aren't any. States which want saloons can have them—so far Nevada is the single Commonwealth which definitely regards the old brass rail with favor. In the great majority of the states, no definite plan has been decided upon, and the machinery of regulation is inept or lacking entirely, a matter which must be remedied by legislative session.

It was because of this that John D. Rockefeller, Junior, hired R. B. Fosdick, lawyer, and A. L. Scott, industrial engineer, to make a sweeping study of ways and means to control the liquor traffic. Their report recently released, is long, thorough, and dispassionate. Theme song of the report is that the greatest of all liquor problems is private profit, and that it should be eliminated. Each state should form an Alcohol Control Authority with retail outlets of its own—a la the system in vogue in the Canadian provinces—for hard liquor. It would fix prices, and all profits go to the State. Beer and wine could be sold in hotels, restaurants, grocery stores, etc., under regulation of the authority. It would have the authority to establish dry zones within the state when local sentiment was favorable.

The licensing system—which has been persuasively pushed of late—is severely criticized, inasmuch as it still leaves the problem of profit, becomes involved with politics, tends to encourage, rather than to discourage, overdrinking.

On the burning subject of liquor taxes, the report recommends that the tax rate should vary with a drink's alcoholic content, its price, and its "social value." The tax on beer would be not more than 10 cents a gallon; on such luxuries as sparkling wines, $3 a gallon; and on whiskey, $3 a gallon. Estimated tax revenue, on this basis, is $700,000,000 a year—almost twice total Federal income tax return for 1933.

Liquor manufacturers are showing themselves awake to conditions. In newspaper advertisements they are urging public cooperation and advocating temperance.

WE CAN'T HAVE BOTH

The greatest obstacle business is struggling against now is taxation. And taxation, as a result, is the principal barrier in the way of achieving the fullest success for the recovery plans that are now in operation.

No business can spend money it hasn't got. No business can put more men on its payrolls when it is existing demands. No business can expand with profitless balance-sheets.

It's a moot point as to how great an influence taxation was in prolonging and deepening depression. But it was, to say the least, considerable. When the national income touched the lowest point in decades, the cost of government loomed like Everest out of the plains of Tibet.

To regain governmental economy, it is not necessary to curtail or damage necessary governmental functions—it simply means that the waste, inefficiency and duplication of effort that is actually harmful to legitimate governmental work, must be eliminated. In some cases a start has been made, and the taxpayers have been saved millions—as in the post office department, which is breaking even for the first time in many years. But the work has barely begun.

Reasonable taxation is the friend of recovery, of employment and higher wage scales, and individual and corporate prosperity. That must not be forgotten.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

The President speaks—the country responds. We've been used to that lately, and it happened again in Mr. Roosevelt's optimistic radio talk of October 22. Gist of the speech was that the recovery plans are succeeding. The president reviewed progress made in employment under the N. R. A., the achievements in the field of price-upping and the stabilization, the agricultural adjustment work, which has won fewer victories than was hoped. He spoke also on chiseling of the kind that raises the cost of a shirt $1.00 because of a 4-cent cotton processing tax—reiterated his opposition to it.

Most important of his utterances perhaps, was his definite statement that there would be no effort at first—this, in his opinion, putting horse and cart in the proper relation.

Next day's reaction to the speech was a boom in securities, strengthening of prices and markets of all kinds.

WILMOT H. S. DEDICATION TO BE NOVEMBER 10

Main Address to Be Given by State Supt. of Schools,
John Callahan

The dedication program of the recently completed Wilmot high school will be held Friday evening, Nov. 10. The building will be open to public inspection from 1:00 to 7:45 p. m. Friday, after which a thirty-minute concert, beginning at 7:45, will be given in the gymnasium by the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co. Band.

The formal program to follow has been arranged as follows:

Invocation; address of welcome by a member of the school board; introduction to the architecture of the building, by Marlin M. Schnurr, principal; history of the school from the beginning until 1913 by Richard D. Swenson of Monmouth, Oregon, formerly editor of the Wilmot Agitator; history from 1913 to the present by Co. Supt. Hienfeldt; vocal selections by the combined high school and grade school choruses; dedicatory address by State Superintendent of Schools, John Callahan; benediction.

The Union Free High School and Wilmot grades moved into the new school building Saturday and regular class work was held for the first time on Monday.

The grade rooms are a separate unit entirely from the high school, with a southern entrance and exposure. Miss Virginia Rowe of Sparta, principal, presides over the intermediate room, and Miss Grace Beales, Kenosha, the primary department. Each room is beautifully equipped with the latest in school furnishings. Special tables, and boxes were provided for the primary department. There is excellent lighting throughout the entire building, board space and cork board for bulletin boards. The grades have their own corridors and lavatories.

Besides the graded school on the main floor, the high school has an entrance to a high school department on the east. Pupils will enter a closed foyer before reaching the main corridor. Opposite this double entrance is a trophy case decorated with a plaque symbolical of athletics. Each corridor in both schools is lined with lockers for the pupils. Fire escapes have been placed at strategic points. An electric clock governs the bell system and in time, clocks will be placed in each room. Cable for radio was installed, if ever desired. An efficient fire alarm system was installed. The entire building is of fireproof construction even to the flooring of asphalt tile.

Principal M. M. Schnurr's agricultural room is on this floor. Another room, with an acoustically treated ceiling will be devoted to the music department under Miss Gladys Burton, of Silver Lake. The third room on this floor, the history department, will be in charge of Miss Alice Kuenall, of Waukesha.

The high school lavatories and a janitor's supply room which contains a paper chute from the janitor's room on the second floor, shelves and a sink, complete the list of rooms on the ground floor.

The second floor is devoted entirely to the high school department. The main assembly which covers the width of the southern entrance, a raised stage and room for the school year. It is hoped that they will all be as popular as the one on Monday evening for the Club hopes to make the school a true community center.

Chairmen of the different projects planned for the year talked on their subjects. Mrs. P. Burroughs, of the handicraft department; Mrs. M. Schnurr, dramatics; Alice Kuenall, athletics for women; William Lieske, athletics for men.

Miss Mildred Berger and Norman Jedele, accompanied by Miss Rhoda Jedele at the piano, played two clarinet duets, La Paloma and Dreams and Shadows. Both numbers were well received.

Double Demon, a one act farce, concluded the entertainment. Miss Ruth Thomas coached the play and it proved very popular. Characters were Mrs. Roy Swenson, Mrs. Harry McDougall, Miss Helen Loftus, Miss Mary Daley, Miss M. La Velle, Mrs. Frank Young, Mrs. A. Lischka, Mrs. H. Richter, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Anton Schlar, Mrs. H. Sarbeck and Frank Novacek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz, Peggy Shotton, Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schultz, of Bensenville, attended the Century of Progress, Thursday, Saturday, Rev. and Mrs. S. Jedele, Normal and Rhoda Jedele.

At the State Agricultural Judging contest held last week at Madison three entrants from this school, Buddy Slochen, Reuben Schaffer and Alvin Gillmore were entered with 250 from the entire State. Buddy Van Slochen deserves very creditable mention as he was fourth high of the 200 entrants in the judging of dairy cattle. Principal M. Schnurr took the boys to Madison Friday, but as he had to return, County Agent Ryall had them in charge on Saturday when they visited the State Capitol building, the new Forest Products laboratory, a Federal project and the largest and best equipped of its kind in the world. Saturday afternoon they attended the Wisconsin football game.

SUMMER is the time for recreation—vacationing. Also, it's the time for "re-creating" your physical appearance. For one thing, you'll find it easier to reduce weight during the summer than at any other time of the year because at this season you're not as hungry, particularly for heavy, fat-producing foods, but you do have a natural craving for cool liquids, for fresh milk, fruits and vegetables which are three of your most important reducing aids.

TO EVERYONE who pays a bill for electricity and gas

The reasonableness of electric and gas rates affects the pocketbook of every citizen, directly or indirectly. That you may understand the situation, there is published below the statement made October 24th before the Illinois Commerce Commission, at a formal rate hearing, by James Simpson, chairman of Commonwealth Edison Company, The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, and Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Illinois Commerce Commission:

BEFORE you begin formal hearings in the citation for a reduction in rates by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, I ask your indulgence to present a statement. What I will say also applies to the Commonwealth Edison Company and The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company. Reversing the time-honored order of procedure, I am prefacing my remarks with what would, under most circumstances, be the conclusion of them. That is a request—a frank open, straightforward request—that this body postpone hearings looking to a further downward revision of rates by the three companies mentioned, until such time as those companies and your honorable body may know more about the future than it is possible to know today.

To Avoid Increased Rates

The companies are making every effort to absorb the extraordinary and unforeseen expenses recently added to their burdens, hoping that they will not be forced to petition this Commission for relief through increased rates.

There are four major items involved in the management of these public utilities, two having to do with their revenues and two with their expenses. Let me briefly mention them:

1. The first is rates. This matter is either in your hands or in the hands of the courts. The companies have no control of the rates, their very lifeblood. I do not contend that they should have such final control, but I do contend that rates should be fair, and this means adequate to provide a reasonable return upon the capital invested for the service of the public.

2. The second item, affecting the gross revenue of the companies, is the quantity of electricity and gas consumed by their customers. Over this, broadly speaking, the companies have no control. The extent of the customer's use of these services is a matter wholly of his own choice or needs. The company must sell but the customer is not required to buy. The depression and hard times have taken their toll from these companies and, only recently has there been any encouraging upward trend. Consumption is still far below normal.

3. The third item is our normal daily operating expenses which may be spoken of as controllable expense. It is the only one of the four major items over which the companies have a large measure of control. Their control over this item is limited by the necessity of protecting the high standard of the service rendered. From intimate and personal knowledge of our business I know that the three companies have done a good job in reducing this part of their operating expenses.

Uncontrollable Expenses Mount

4. The fourth and last item is the uncontrollable portion of the companies' expenses. It is in part composed of state, county and local real estate and personal property taxes, state franchise taxes, state capital stock tax, federal capital stock tax, federal tax of 3 per cent on sale of electricity, municipal franchise tax, federal income tax, and various other governmental charges.

Recently the Department of Finance of the State of Illinois has attempted to apply the 2 per cent Illinois Retailers' Occupational Tax—the so-called "sales tax"—to electric and gas services. The companies believe that the furnishing of these services is not retail sale of goods or property, at which the law is specifically directed. Consequently, we are compelled to litigate the tax in the courts. May I add that public utilities represent the only business that does not have the privilege of passing this tax on to the consumer.

Total Income $7,667,000 Per Year

Replacing further this matter of taxes, within the past ten months the three companies have had new and increased taxes levied or proposed to be levied against them, some going back to the years 1931 and 1932, amounting to more than $1,400,000, of which the companies had no knowledge a year ago. A portion of these increased taxes is chargeable to the years 1931 and 1932 because of the confused tax situation in Cook County. The earnings statements of the three companies for these two years reflect these increased taxes. Certain of the new taxes such as the federal tax of 3 per cent on the sale of electricity and one or two other new forms of taxation above mentioned, have been imposed under laws passed during the current year and therefore, have been effective during only a part of the year 1933. The full effect of these new and increased taxes has not yet been felt. If all these additional taxes be continued the estimated increase in taxes will amount to $7,867,000 per year.

Further down in this list of uncontrollable expenses is the cost of investigations made by this Commission imposed within the past six months by amendments to our State Law. Even more recently there has been added to this list a substantial increase in expenses due to the codes under the National Recovery Act.

One large and unyielding element in the list is interest on outstanding bonded debts, representing capital expenditures necessarily incurred for the rendering of service to the public.

Net Revenue Drops $18,500,000

I am not going to burden this presentation with too many figures for this Commission is thoroughly familiar with them, but I do wish to bring out one significant figure resulting from the startling trends in the three uncontrollable items to which I have just referred. It is a comparison of combined operating figures for the three companies for the year 1933 with the more normal year of 1930. The reduction in the estimated gross earnings from operations of the three companies for 1933 on the one hand, and the increases in taxes and other uncontrollable items on the other hand, result in a reduction of income in excess of $25,000,000.

Partially offsetting this decrease in income, the controllable expenses will be some $6,500,000 less in 1933 than they were in 1930. Therefore, the combined net operating income of these three companies for 1933, after the payment of interest and before the payment of dividends, will be at least $18,500,000 less than in 1930. This graphically tells the story of the past three years.

Dividends and Stockholders

This condition quite recently made necessary the suspension of dividends by The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company on its $67,000,000 of outstanding capital stock. Since 1931, dividends on the $162,000,000 of outstanding capital stock of Commonwealth Edison Company have been cut in half, and dividends on the $63,000,000 of outstanding common stock of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois have been reduced to one-fourth of their former level.

Consequently, in the face of a sub-normal demand for electricity and gas, resulting in a sub-normal revenue, in the face of increasing uncontrollable expenses, and in the face of rapidly rising costs which will be accelerated if we have any form of inflation or deflation, you are asking these companies further to reduce their rates.

Economic realities must be faced. Any further rate reductions or increases in taxes are impossible at this time without seriously affecting these three companies.

Nothing is to be gained by seeking to stabilize the present situation to anything that may have occurred in the past. For past history, neither the wisest members of the Commission nor the present management of the companies are in any measure responsible. Under the trying conditions now prevailing, it is our task to look forward, not backward.

Utilities' Credit Essential to Community

This community, embracing the City of Chicago and the surrounding area, is dependent in a large measure for its prosperity and growth upon these three companies. Any injury to them affecting their credit or their service inevitably means great damage to the community at large.

The maintenance of the credit of these institutions is entirely possible with reasonable rates. Whether present rates with improved conditions will be adequate for the restoration of the earnings, remains to be seen. But any reduction in rates at this time is unthinkable.

The consumer is interested in the maintenance of adequate rates because that is the only way to insure good service.

Illinois Residents Viciously Interested

While every consideration must and should be given to our customers, our stockholders numbering over 100,000—more than 90,000 of whom reside in Illinois—must not be lost sight of. Illinois is vitally interested in the successful operation of these three companies for in its confines reside over 70,000 bondholders, 90,000 stockholders, 15,400 employees, and upwards of 65,000 other persons gainfully employed in ways dependent upon the activities of these companies. An ultra conservative family multiplicity of 3 applied to this army of 240,000 persons leads one to the conclusion that one person out of every 10 in the State has a direct interest in the prosperity of these three companies.

The Public Utility Law of this State was designed to protect the investor as well as the consumer—the one who renders the service as well as the one who enjoys it. The question is far from a one-sided one. It is by no means true that a reduction in rates would injure a few and aid many. A rate reduction not warranted by prevailing conditions would bring about as great an injustice to the consumer as to the investor.

Our responsibilities as managers of these companies, and we take these responsibilities with all seriousness, are to render to our customers the best possible service at the lowest possible rates, to give to our stockholders a reasonable return on their investment, and to pay our employees a fair living wage. These things we can do only with fair and reasonable rates.

Industry in this country cannot survive unless Government permits it to earn a reasonable—and I use that word advisedly—a reasonable return on its invested capital.

Commission's Broad Interest

I appreciate the grave responsibility resting upon the shoulders of the members of the Illinois Commerce Commission, appointed by the Governor of this State to administer the Public Utility Law. I am aware of the pressure that is constantly put upon persons in your position to force reductions in rates. This pressure is always more serious in times of economic stress like the present.

Your responsibility under the Public Utility Law of providing equally the service of the company and of the investor can be a tremendous burden. It is a burden that is not to be lightly shouldered. It is a burden that is not to be lightly shouldered. It is a burden that is not to be lightly shouldered. It is a burden that is not to be lightly shouldered.

Remember you are not to be misled by the consumer's demand for lower rates. Remember you are not to be misled by the investor's demand for higher rates. Remember you are not to be misled by the public's demand for lower rates. Remember you are not to be misled by the public's demand for lower rates.

Nothing is to be gained by seeking to stabilize the present situation to anything that may have occurred in the past. For past history, neither the wisest members of the Commission nor the present management of the companies are in any measure responsible. Under the trying conditions now pre-

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 29.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of Judgment to be punished" (II Peter 2:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you" (I Peter 5:8-10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Resist evil—error of every sort—and it will flee from you" (p. 409).

Various Professions

Members of the Vocational Class taught by Fred Hackett at the Antioch Township High School, have been given glimpses of practical reality concerning a number of professions by persons connected with those professions.

Some time ago Miss Marguerite Galiger discussed the nursing profession. Last week Miss Cornelia Roberts spoke of the teaching of history, and the various fields which preparation for history teaching would enable one to enter, chiefly archaeology and journalism.

Miss Helen Curran gave a general guidance talk, stressing the value of being well-grounded in English. Mrs. Ruby Richey, in discussing the divisions of Home Economics, spoke of it from the viewpoint of boys as well as girls, and pointed out that it was not a "pipe" profession but one which required much effort, research, and supplementary subjects such as chemistry.

H. H. Reichers in telling about how to go after teaching jobs pointed out the qualifications other than scholastic required. Miss Dorothy Hughes spoke Tuesday on the advantages and disadvantages of entering the journalistic field, and told of the qualifications, training, and personality which would best fit one for this work. Miss Alice Smith yesterday stressed the value of cultural subjects.

as Penrod

Rehearsals on the play "Penrod" adapted from the book by Booth Tarkington, to be presented by the Junior class at the high school November 9 and 10, are progressing satisfactorily according to Mrs. G. E. Phillips, director. A double cast has been working on the play, one cast to present the drama on Thursday night, while an entirely different set of characters will act Friday night.

In choosing "Penrod" the Junior class is producing a play which is entirely different from any which has been produced in the past few years. The farm mechanics class, under the direction of C. L. Kuttel, is building a two story house which boasts a glass window and a veranda. The house must be able to withstand the ravages of a thunderstorm and an attack by hornets.

A group of girls, under the direction of Mrs. Roger Dardenne, is busy making convincing hollyhocks to grow along the fence, and roses to twine about a trellis.

The task of creating hornets which will look and sound realistic, and yet not cause injury to the audience has been undertaken by Armand Dalgaard. Dan Williamson will control the thunderstorm.

The complete cast of characters which were announced and printed several weeks ago remain the same. They are as follows:

SKY RIDING—OLD STYLE AND NEW

Sky-ride at A Century of Progress Exposition. (Inset) The famous old ferris wheel of the 1893 World's Fair.

In the venturesome '90s, America, young and old, thrilled at the daring of the Ferris wheel which was the center of attraction at the Chicago World's Fair held in the closing months of 1893.

In the bolder days of 1933 at A Century of Progress Exposition, also in Chicago, it was a ride again which excited the interest of the visitors and formed probably the greatest single attraction among the thousands offered. This time it was the Sky-ride, combining swiftly-moving elevators in two 600-foot towers with smoothly-sliding steel gondolas traveling from tower to tower 200 feet in the air, both affording an airplane view of the Exposition and the city of Chicago.

And, as in the case of the Ferris Wheel, the Sky-ride, despite dire predictions to the contrary was an entertainment success.

One of the greatest engineering feats of its time, the Ferris wheel provided the ultimate in exciting experiences to hundreds of visitors to the old World's Fair. Its huge revolving wheel, 250 feet in diameter, on which were suspended 36 cars, was looked upon with awe by those who came to the exposition. One historian, writing about the wonder, records the fact that "its gigantic structure was brilliantly lighted at night with 3,000 electric light bulbs." This is about the number of lights now used on a fair-sized advertising sign.

Although the Ferris wheel today would be considered far less than breath-taking, it was without doubt the outstanding attraction at the Columbian Fair, and hundreds of thousands of people paid fifty cents to ride it, each ride consisting of two complete revolutions. Indeed, so successful was it that its original cost of $350,000 had been paid by admissions several weeks before the fair closed.

Dwarfing the Ferris wheel by comparison, however, is the Sky-ride and its success. In height the Sky-ride towers are 600 feet, compared with the Ferris wheel's 250. In cost, the Sky-ride required an investment of $1,500,000 almost five times as much as the Ferris wheel.

Because of this tremendous cost, many critics were emphatic in their opinions that the Sky-ride would be a financial failure. In spite of discouragement, however, George Malcolm, Vice President of the Otis Elevator Company, one of the backers of the project, went ahead with plans for its construction.

That his belief in the Sky-ride was correct is evident from a recent report on the operation of this attraction.

"From the 12th of October figures," says the statement, "it is evident that the attendance (on the Sky-ride) will pass the 2,500,000 mark by the end of the month. This is certainly one of the most successful, if not the most successful attraction ever staged."

Mr. Malcolm offers another interesting observation. At the top of each of the towers the Otis Elevator Company had arranged the machinery room of the high rise elevators so that visitors could see just what makes a modern elevator run. More than a million persons paid admission to see this exhibit of machinery. This feature of the Sky-ride, it is stated, was built primarily as an educational exhibit; it was expected that there would be a loss on the project, but that if such were incurred it would be repaid in the awakened public interest in vertical transportation.

Twenty-eight Rural Schools in Co. Have A Superior Rating

Sixteen Are Added Since W. C. Petty Became Superintendent

Twenty-eight of the sixty-three Lake county rural schools are rated as Superior, a number far surpassing the number of superior schools in any other county in the state, according to figures received from the county superintendent's office.

The following fourteen rural and village schools were Superior schools when W. C. Petty, county superintendent of schools, took office, March 11, 1931:

Bonnie Brook, Cedar Lake, Gavin, Gurnee, Hawthorn, Lake Villa, Lotus Country, Oakland, Saugatuck, Wadsworth, Stearns, Wilson, Millburn, Oak Grove.

The Millburn and Oak Grove schools had their Superior ratings withdrawn by the State Department in the fall of 1931.

In the spring of 1932 the following schools were added to the Superior list: Bannockburn, Beach, Bruce Lake, Gages Lake, Round Lake, Russell, Spaulding, Wilmet, North Prairie.

Seven Added in 1933

In the spring of 1933 six more schools, including Oak Grove, which was reinstated, were made Superior. They are:

Lone Oak, Browe, Rondout, Oak Grove, Diamond Lake, Lake Zurich.

The White School has recently been added to the Superior group making a total of 28 Superior schools in Lake county. The number of Superior Schools has been more than doubled since Mr. Petty became County Superintendent.

The following schools have been made Standard since 1931: Avon Center, Courtney, Schultz, Wauconda, Hainesville, Monaville, Fox Lake.

The rating of schools as Standard or Superior by the State Department of Public Instruction is applied only to rural and village schools having boards of directors. The larger elementary schools having boards of education are not so classified.

How to Eat for Health and Beauty

In this unusual photograph of the famous Bennett hair and eyes, Connie proves that her beauty can stand the closest scrutiny.

SUMMER wind and sun are hard on hair as well as skin, so take time to massage nourishing oils into your scalp as well as your face. And nourish your scalp and hair from the inside, too, by taking an abundance of such healthful foods as fresh milk, fruits and vegetables and eggs, because trying to have gleaming, lustrous hair by means of shampoos, scalp treatments and waves alone, is a losing struggle as anyone who has noticed how the beauty of her hair varies with the condition of her general health, can testify.

Autumn Spreads Call for Colorful, Rich Combinations

Ingenuity Required to Plan Harmonizing Menu and Decorations

There isn't anything much more attractive than a beautifully arranged table, with silverware, china, glassware, napkins, flowers and the food itself in harmony as nearly as possible in coloring and design. Your feminine guests are particularly appreciative, for they fully understand the thought and effort required to perfect every detail.

Elegance isn't necessary. Why, a forty-dollar breakfast served on a bar covered with a red and white checked tablecloth can actually be distinctive if proper attention is given to subordinating everything to the "theme song." Just because one's glassware isn't of the most recent design or doesn't all match is no reason for being discouraged; on the contrary, it is a source of ingenuity.

Napkins and Flowers Effective
With paper napkins so much in vogue for party decorations, a hostess can strongly emphasize her color combination with these aids. Flowers, too, are usually obliging—even homegrown ones. In the spring, when there is more occasion for "rose" luncheons, etc., dainty pastel flowers in bloom. When fall comes around, with its attendant heartiness expressed in deeper, richer colors, autumn leaves and flowers supplement your table decorations wonderfully.

There are endless ways of planning the menu itself to conform to pattern. With the flavorings and colorings now on the market pastries can be converted into almost any desired color. Here is a black and orange menu suitable for any autumn dinner. Valuable suggestions for a luncheon or even a spread may be taken from it.

Fall Dinner

Fresh Gingerbread with Thick Marshmallow Frosting tinted orange.

TINTED NAILS ARE ATROCIOUS ON ROUGH OR WRINKLED HANDS

Ill Kept Hands Belie One's Age, and Detract from Smart Appearance

Seasoned faddists accustomed to watching the weather vane for varying moods and tricks of fashion 11, 1933, recast that we're in for a long gamut of "pale" tipped nails. This town's rings the hand into undue prominence, with results not always so flattering to the owners.

If your hands are in need of rejuvenation, it would be advisable to go easy on the bright nail polish until such time as said hands are fit to bear inspection. Lotions will do it, but it's a pretty up-hill grade some times.

Most women whether intentionally or not use a certain amount of skin tissue on their faces—enough to keep the skin soft and moderately free from harsh lines and wrinkles. Many of these same women, however, pay little heed to the skin texture of their hands. Some think it's too late to do anything about them; others are sturdy adherents to the idea that rough hands denote good honest work.

Well, what of it? Most of us do work of some type nowadays. Is manual labor to be glorified by rough fingers and broken nails above and beyond all other types of labor? It would seem so; but consider this—ought not more pride to be taken in a combination of work and beauty retained? It takes a bit more effort, you know, and whether you think it's worth it is up to you.

Probably fifty per cent of the women belong to some bridge club, play cards more or less regularly, or "go out" to make an attempt to serve that youthful softness. Treatment once a day with a good lotion is helpful. Lotion is a preventive to skin redness and dryness.

"Of Human Bondage" Is Story of Youth's Trials, Tribulations

"Of Human Bondage" by W. Somerset Maugham is an all-too-true account of the way youth is trapped, whether or not he realizes the fact, by circumstance and certain unchangeable instincts and impulses.

Young Philip has a club-foot which handicaps him seriously, particularly as a child at boarding school. He is taunted by his schoolmates. He tries accounting, but fails at that; after which he becomes interested in art, spends two years in Paris, and again decides that art is not to be his life work.

Impulsively he decides to follow in his father's footsteps and become a doctor, although previously the idea had been abhorrent to him. He becomes really interested in his work, and is doing well, when a sudden loss of money forces him to give up the work for a time, and after nearly starving he gets a job as floorwalker. Upon the death of his uncle, he again resumes his medical studies and has an offer to become assistant to a country doctor. At first he refuses but later in order that he can afford to get married he accepts, thereby turning his back forever upon his bright dream of traveling.

Before his marriage there are several women in his life, one of whom has quite an influence. Here again he is trapped; although he recognizes the woman as insincere, mentally stupid and vulgar, and a petty gold digger, yet he is unable to throw off the fascination she has for him.

The story is written leisurely, with no sense of hurrying toward any particular crisis or climax. Philip is no hero—he is self-conscious, rather jealous, dreamy, and weak, but with a strong recognition of his own faults which proves a strength.

Grandma's Rocker

"Here, Furr-boy, here's your sasser of milk. Did they feed you up good when your poor old Grandma was gone? Your lookin' purty chipper—guess maybe that warn't I give Gladys did some good after all. That's right good, now, isn't it, hey? Good plain milk—no fancy spinich noodles like they give me up at John's."

"Did you miss me, Furr-boy? I've bin away for a week, stayin' with John and Blanche. 'Twas my birthday Monday—seventy-six I was—and what do you suppose Blanche dished up? Spinich noodles! Green things, with dried spinich in 'em. Blanche says you can't sarge up the same things over and over, but I never said you could. 'In my time no one had ever heard of the stuff—at least nobody I ever knew. Blanche says to tell Gladys about it, but I guess I'll wait 'and let her do the tellin' herself—I wouldn't want her to think I really liked the stuff—but you know, privately, between you and me, Furr-boy, it weren't so bad—and the papers all do say how spinich is good for you."

"You know somethin' else she done, Furr-boy? She was makin' some sandwiches one night, and she mashed up the butter and mixed it in with the sandwich fillin' before she spread it on. Said it saved time."

"We took a drive one day to see old Lucy Crawford. She gets around pretty well for a woman of her age. I will have to admit—there she was acannin' sweet cider. Said it would keep that way, too. She just poured it into glass jars, fixed the rubbers and covers, and processed them in hot water at 175 F. for only twenty-five minutes. Then she took the jars out, sealed them, and the whole thing was done. Wish I had done that forty years ago—maybe James wouldn't have got outside so much hard cider then."

"Yes, and Lucy's daughter came in while we was there—the youngest one that married a blacksmith, but they're on the farm now, and neo is a soothing and heal was tellin' how she was putting skin-food and is highly some apple juice to make jelly recommended for sun-burn. Winter or spring. I had to laugh at a growth of hair and she thought she was tellin' us so unexcelled as a cleansing thin'. Why, I did that once y ago, when sugar was high—there ain't much sense to it most times, if you ask me."

"All through, Furr-boy? Well, you'd better curl up by the stove and take a nap. I feel kinda sleepy myself—guess I'll take a little dose now while Gladys ain't around."

(More household suggestions will be included in Grandma's reveries in an early issue.)

is to rub a lotion on the hands after washing in cold water. If one can afford it, a massage by a skin specialist is a right step on the road to recovery.

CRISP WAFFLES FIT INTO EVERY MENU

The New Waffle Ice Cream Sandwiches Acclaimed Excellent Desserts

Waffles may form the basis of nearly any festive affair you choose to give this fall, as they fit into any menu. As the hot bread for breakfast they add a delicious crispness to sausage or bacon service. (A tip for welcoming Baby 1934 into the world next New Year's morn.)

One of the newest and most delicious uses of the waffle is the waffle ice cream sandwich. What could be more appropriate to serve for a combined sandwich-dessert to your bridge club?

For a Sunday evening supper waffles are just the thing. There are so many varieties that may be obtained by the addition of different fruits or dates or jellies that waffle making might well become a specialty of which your guests would never tire. Syrup, jelly, marmalade or just butter and sugar with waffles is a hearty dessert.

Plain Waffles

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, beaten separately
4 tablespoons melted butter.
Sift flour, measure and sift again with all the dry ingredients. Combine with egg yolks, well beaten milk and butter. Add to the flour, beating until smooth. Fold in the beaten egg whites. Bake on waffle iron. Makes four large waffles.

Dessert Waffle

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
1/3 cup milk
1 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly together. Add the well beaten yolks of eggs, the milk, flavoring and dry ingredients sifted together. Lastly fold in lightly beaten egg whites and bake. Makes four waffles.

Banana Waffles

Add 1/2 cup banana pulp and one teaspoon lemon juice to plain waffle batter.

Date Waffles

Add 1/2 cup chopped dates to waffle batter.

A $1.50 Dinner for 6

HERE'S a hearty dinner which you can serve to six people at a cost of twenty-five cents each, and have a whole cent left! "Corn Omelet: Separate six eggs and beat yolks until thick and whites until stiff. Add six tablespoons hot water, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one-third teaspoon pepper to the yolks, then fold in the whites. Add the contents of an 8-ounce can of corn, and pour into a buttered, hot skillet, or better, into two smaller ones. Cook slowly until brown on the bottom, then place in a moderate oven—350°—until firm and top dried off. Fold over and turn out onto a hot platter; garnish with bacon strips. Serve at once.

Black Cherry Cobbler: Mix one tablespoon sugar with one tablespoon flour, add the boiling syrup from half a No. 3 1/2 can of pitted black cherries, and cook until creamy. Add one tablespoon lemon juice and one tablespoon butter and half the cherries from the can, halved or quartered, and pour into a buttered baking dish. Make a biscuit dough of three-fourths cup flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one and one-half tablespoons shortening and one-fourth cup milk, and drop by spoonfuls on top of the fruit. Bake in a hot oven—425°—for about fifteen minutes. Serve warm with two-thirds cup thick cream.

Unusual Salads

IT is difficult to devise a new salad, so all the old ones are served over and over again. Have you ever thought of using corn in your salads? It can be done, and it provides a filling dish against the first chill days of fall. Here are some recipes for such salads which will help you to vary this part of the meal.

These Are Different

Corn Salad: Marinate the contents of a 12-ounce can of whole kernel corn and one-half cup of grated or finely chopped raw carrot in one-third cup French dressing for an hour or so in the refrigerator. Add one-third cup shredded ripe olives, and serve in a nest of lettuce. Serves eight.

Corn and Pepper Salad: Drain one No. 2 can of whole grain corn, add one-half a green pepper and one pimiento, diced, season with salt and pepper, and marinate in one-fourth cup French dressing in the refrigerator until very cold. Serve on lettuce leaves. Serves six.

Corn Shock Salad: Thrust three or four canned asparagus tips through a ring of green pepper, then arrange them to stand upright in a lettuce leaf to resemble a shock of corn. Garnish around base with mayonnaise, and here and there place tiny pickled ears of corn. Have all the ingredients very cold.

Better Breakfasts

EVERY country has its own special foods, and one way to vary your first meal of the day is to take a leaf out of the menu book of some particular land, and see how well it fits in to the kind of breakfast you prefer. Here is a breakfast at which you can close your eyes and imagine that you are sitting in a picturesque little inn nestling on a hillside gray-green with olive trees, stirring slightly under a drenching Spanish sun. But you'll be sure to open them again to get the last forkful of your portion of this foreign breakfast's delicious main dish.

Can't you imagine a scene like the above and the delight of sitting there eating a breakfast like the following:

Baked Apples with Cream
Cooked or Ready-to-Eat Bran
Cereal
Spanish Omelet
Toast
Coffee

And here's the way to make the main dish:

Spanish Omelet: Add two slices onion, diced, one-half a green pepper, sliced, and the sliced contents of a 4-ounce can of mushrooms to two tablespoons olive oil, and cook gently for five minutes. Add the contents of a 10-ounce can of tomatoes, season highly with salt and pepper, and cook five to ten minutes to reduce the bulk. Spread over a six-egg French omelet, fold over and turn out onto a hot platter. Serve at once. Serves six.

"No Second Spring" $20,000 Prize Novel, Is Simple Love Tale

It remains usually for those who have discovered how tragic life really is to be able to write about it with calm acceptance. Miss Belth has a quality of serenity in this book which is almost unique in a first novel. "No Second Spring" is a love story of utter simplicity. . . . the story of the gentle Allison McGregor, wife of the Rev. Hamish McGregor, pastor of a wild flock in the Hebrides in 1832. She lived to bear him ten children, seven after the fateful year of 1832, content in her knowledge that she was needed by them and by her husband. With exquisite tenderness the author tells of the timid eagerness of Allison to stir an answering love in her husband, passionate only in his need of her and in his mission to preach God to mankind, a stone man who preached to his 6 year old daughter the fires of hell more because, terrified, she could not tell him that she had been sent to summon him to supper.

Heroine Really Has Character
The terror of the wild country, like something evil clutching at humans, is in the pages of the book, but always so calmly set down that its terrors are made vital instead of purely decorative. Into that emotional bleakness there comes, not suddenly, but slowly with inevitability, love to Allison. What she does about it and how she pays for her choice is the theme of the rest of a moving, tragic, but lovely, tale.

Allison has "character" in the old fashioned sense of the word.

"No Second Spring" has within it the whole moral fragrance, like sweet and bitter, of the nineteenth century. Miss Belth has produced a book which in its beauty and simplicity and its spiritual essence of its period is a work of art.

This book may be rented from Marianne's Rental Library, Antioch.

RED CROSS CLOTHES THE NATION'S NEEDY

Flour, Bread, Clothing Reach Into More Than Five Million Homes of Jobless

The greatest task ever undertaken by a relief agency in the history of private charity is drawing to a close with the final distribution of cotton clothing to more than five million families by the American Red Cross. At the direction of the Congress, beginning eighteen months ago, the Red Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm Board into food and clothing for the unemployed and needy. In the consequent operation, this relief agency entered upon a commercial enterprise greater than any single commercial firm has ever undertaken in the same period of time.

In the ensuing months the Red Cross converted 55,000,000 bushels of wheat into flour and bread and gave it to 5,803,000 families. The distribution was through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and hundreds of other charitable agencies. During the severe northwestern drought of 1931 the Red Cross also gave wheat in the form of food for livestock to 184,188 families.

The clothing—dresses, underwear, overalls, jumpers, sweaters and stockings for men, women and children, and even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465,410 families. More than 54,000,000 ready-made garments and 92,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were given to the needy. This clothing came from 844,000 bales of cotton.

The wheat distribution was concluded in June, 1933, and final distribution of cotton clothing is occurring in the fall months.

In handling these tasks voted to it by Congress, the Red Cross will expend from its own treasury $735,000. At the same time the organization carried on its regular program of disaster relief; of educational and welfare work through the Junior Red Cross; of health education and public health nursing and of life saving and first aid. Funds for this work come from the membership roll call the Red Cross chapters conduct from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, when every one is invited to join the Red Cross and aid in this vital relief work.

Seven hundred thousand women volunteers under the Red Cross banner sewed for the needy last year and many thousands still are making cotton garments for their Red Cross chapters.

The Red Cross has 3,701 chapters and 10,000 branches of chapters. Thus it can be mobilized nationwide in a great relief task within 24 hours.

RED CROSS RELIEF AIDS DISTRESSED IN 120 DISASTERS

Help Given in Fires, Floods, Earthquake and Epidemics Part of Year's Task

The American Red Cross has reached into the homes of six million families in the past year with unemployment and disaster relief, Chairman John Barton Payne announced.

"As the year closed the organization continued in readiness to serve in the forthcoming winter at the point of greatest need and to adjust its service to meet the calls of the emergency of unemployment and disaster," Chairman Payne stated.

In a year of greatest economic distress in the nation's history, in which the Red Cross ably discharged a relief task in distributing food and clothing to distressed families in all but six of the nation's 3,098 counties, the organization also was called into action in 120 disasters, of which 96 were within the borders of the United States.

Earthquake, floods, hurricanes, fires and other cataclysms visited death and destruction upon the lives and homes of thousands of people. Red Cross statistics showed that in the 120 disasters almost a thousand lives were lost, 148,340 homes were destroyed or damaged, 13,275 persons were injured, and Red Cross relief was given to 452,879 individuals.

In giving aid in these disasters, in its unemployment relief and in handling the distribution of government wheat and cotton, the Red Cross expended from its national treasury the sum of $1,070,284. During one period of twelve weeks, 46 disasters occurred in 23 states. Red Cross disaster workers were hard pressed in meeting all of these needs occurring at once, but everywhere misery was promptly relieved.

Support of the Red Cross work is through its annual roll call, conducted by chapters in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to November 30. Every citizen who joins the Red Cross as a member aids in carrying relief to disaster victims and in other Red Cross service, such as preservation of life, child welfare through the Junior Red Cross, and direct service for the public health.

Prepared to Save Lives

One of the most valuable services given to the American public by the Red Cross is through its Life Saving and First Aid courses. Virtually all of the life guards at beaches and pools in the nation are Red Cross life savers. Nearly every industry in America supports the First Aid work of the Red Cross because it annually saves lives of thousands of injured persons. These courses are taught by Red Cross experts in both lines. Last year 66,354 certificates were issued to persons completing the First Aid course and 78,795 certificates for completing Life Saving instruction.

War Veterans' Problems

Not since the period of the World War has the Red Cross faced a greater problem in handling the claims of World War and other veterans. Due to the changes in the regulations covering veterans' claims, chapters all over the nation have been crowded with veteran applicants for relief and for service in preparing appeals. During last year Red Cross home service workers in 3,268 chapters dealt with the problems of 411,111 ex-service men or their families. The chapters also aided 7,346 men still in the regular army, navy and marine corps.

An Army of Children

The membership in the Junior Red Cross last year was 6,629,866 boys and girls in schools, private, public and parochial. They enjoyed volunteer work in hospitals and for orphans, the aged and crippled, and also aided their schoolfellows by providing attention for their eyes, purchasing their glasses, and giving many other types of service to them. The Juniors aid their school work by carrying on correspondence and the exchange of portfolios with school children in other nations.

Toll of the Earthquake

When a severe earthquake killed 95 persons; injured 4,911 and destroyed several thousand homes in Southern California last March, the Red Cross was first upon the ground with emergency relief. It required more than three months for the Red Cross to restore the needy to a self-sustaining basis. The organization expended a relief fund of $411,000.

Serves Under Five Presidents

John Barton Payne, a retired judge and lawyer of international reputation, is serving his twelfth year as chairman of the American Red Cross. His service is without pay, and his appointment is by the President of the United States. He has served by appointment in high public office under five presidents—Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt.
